

Labor Relations Problem Is Chief Topic at Albany

Republicans Strive to Rewrite Constitution in Light of Modern, Social, Economic Conditions

William F. Bleakley Named Vice-President, Will Head Industrial Relations Group

By GEORGE R. LOVEYS
Albany, N. Y., April 6 (AP).—Republicans in control of New York's convention to rewrite the 44-year-old state constitution in the light of modern social and economic conditions strove today to lay a firm foundation for more amicable relations with labor.

While the convention recessed until April 18 after yesterday's organization session, Republican officials of the first such convocation since 1915 discussed privately a program of social welfare and labor reforms admitted with a view to the important November election.

Stated to head the omnipotent committee on industrial relations, which will deal with all labor problems, is former Supreme Court Justice William F. Bleakley, defeated 1936 Republican gubernatorial candidate.

Bleakley, whose election as the convention's first vice president thrust him back into the political picture, declined to disclose what proposals he might introduce but stressed the importance of labor reforms.

Most Lively Discussions
"I think that labor and social problems will prove the most lively discussions of the meeting," he said.

As Republican gubernatorial candidate, the former jurist supported social security and other labor legislation. He polled within 258,000 votes of Lehman's total.

LABOR RELATIONS
Democrats, on the other hand, looked to United States Senator Robert F. Wagner to lead the party's fight for inclusion in the agenda to be put before the November electorate of proposals dealing with rights of labor and social reform.

Wagner, Democratic floor leader, is author of the National Labor Relations Act and other outstanding social legislation.

Both parties, leaders agreed privately, are looking for support of their fall election candidate, by the rapidly growing American Labor Party, which last year aided the re-election of New York City Mayor Fiorella La Guardia.

The election of Buffalo's Mayor Thomas Holling and the seating of seven of the Democratic delegates-at-large to the present convention which they endorsed. In addition, the party seated the State Assemblymen.

New York voters will elect the first four-year term governor in history of the state in November, as well as State Senators and Assemblymen for two years.

Controversy Develops
Meantime, controversy developed among delegates over what firm will receive the $200,000 job of printing convention proceedings and other possible amendments designed to spur low-cost housing projects in the state.

Some leading Democrats, it became known, argued that a state housing program would be unsuccessful.

Army Day Rites

Nation Observes Day in Midst of Peacetime Preparedness—F.D.R. Reviews

Washington, April 6 (AP).—Twenty-one years after America's entry into the world war, the nation observed army day today in the midst of unparalleled peacetime preparedness.

Roaring planes, rumbling artillery, and the tread of troops added a grim note to parades of civilian patriotic organizations in scores of cities.

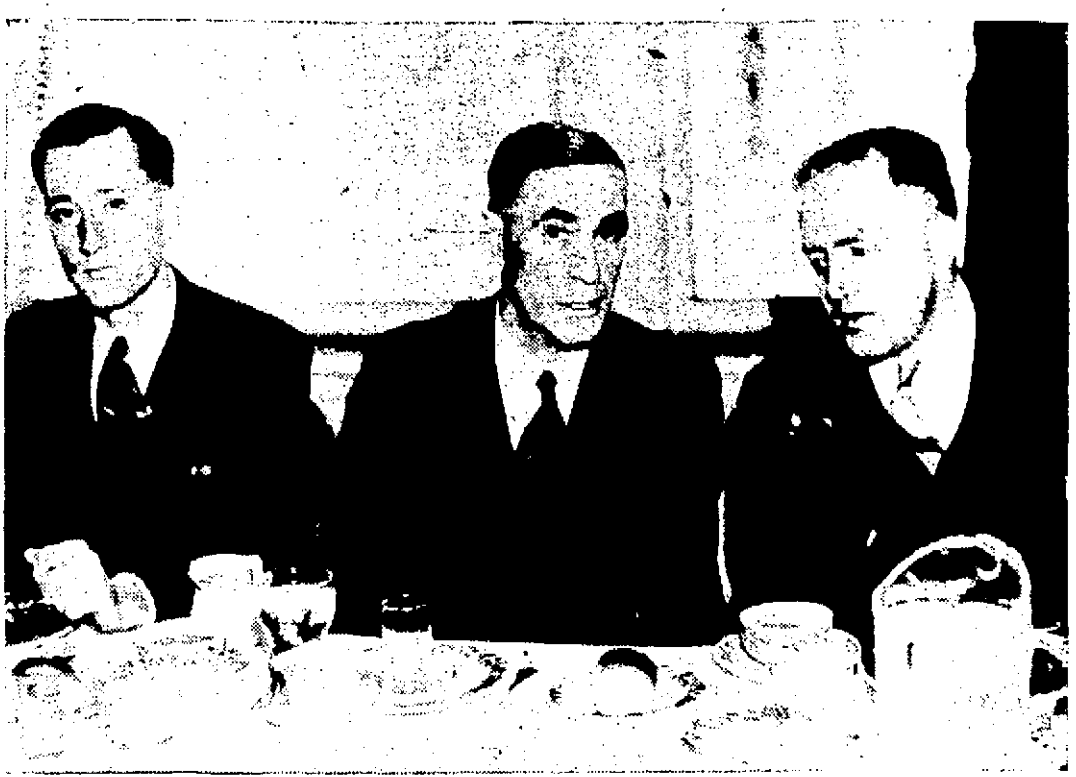

President Roosevelt, who told Congress in January the national defense was "inadequate for purposes of national security," arranged to review a parade of more than 12,000 troops and civilians this afternoon.

A world's arms race, wars in Spain and China and threats of conflict elsewhere have stirred the administration to strengthen materially the nation's land and sea defenses in the last year.

The Senate has under consideration a $489,000,000 war department appropriation bill, $40,000,000 higher than the total approved last month by the House. It is the largest in 18 years.

Both chambers have approved a $50,000,000 navy appropriation bill, also a record. Under the 1932 Washington treaty, the House has voted to authorize the general 20 per cent increase in the navy recommended by the President.

Heavy Snowfall Hampers Central Portion of Nation

Chicago, April 6 (AP).—Winter weather lashed back at the middle west today and heaped budding vegetation with snow a foot deep in many places.

The wet snow, which crippled traffic and grounded all airplanes at Chicago, was general from Wyoming eastward through parts of the Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Ohio.

In the east, slight traces of snow were reported along with sudden drops in temperatures. Boston had the coldest weather for this date in 51 years—25 degrees.

Forecasters J. R. Lloyd of the Government Weather Bureau here predicted the snow would continue heavily today and tonight in northern Illinois and Iowa and southern Wisconsin, but would move from South Dakota and northern Nebraska into Kansas.

The April snow reached depths of 14 inches in Lander, Wyo.; 12 inches in Huron, S. D.; 10 inches in Rapid City, S. D.; and Charles City, Iowa; 5 inches at Springfield, Mo., and Chicago.

Drifts in south central South Dakota blocked roads and forced closing of some rural schools.

Southern Michigan reported snowdrifts of three feet and a fall ranging from one half inch to 8 inches.

Eight inches of snow fell at Angola, Ind., and 2 to 3 inches over northern Ohio grounded planes at Cleveland.

Ice was reported at Ironia, N. J., where the mercury hit 22 above. An Annapolis, Md., temperature dropped 12 degrees to 45 in 12 hours, accompanied by a trace of snow.

AT's Constitutional Ideal

Albany, N. Y., April 6 (AP).—Alfred E. Smith four times governor of New York and Democratic presidential candidate in 1928, favors a "vest pocket" state constitution. "The constitution is too long and ought to be shortened," he said today as he left for New York city after attending the opening yesterday of the State's first convention to revise its organic law since 1915. He was elected honorary president of the assemblage.

Spaniards Locked in Fierce Battle

Hendaye, France, (at the Spanish frontier) April 6 (AP).—A furious battle for possession of Tortosa increased in intensity today as heavily reinforced armies of both sides pounded each other in the third day of the Spanish insurgent attempt to take the Ebro river delta town.

Stubborn government resistance in the last scrap of territory barring General Franco's soldiers from the Mediterranean coast surprised the insurgent command which hurried new motorized divisions into battle from Alcaniz and Gandesa.

During the night, when insurgent bombers were unable to see their objectives, government militia counter-attacked and drove the insurgents out of several positions conquered yesterday in bitter hand-to-hand fighting.

Insurgent dispatches to Iran said the battle of Tortosa was the fiercest yet fought on the seaward drive that began March 9. They declared, however, that communications between Barcelona and the rest of government Spain already were effectively cut by the fire of General Franco's big guns playing upon the coastal highway to Valencia.

The insurgents' usual maneuver of surrounding a city before conquering it was wrecked during the night when waves after waves of militia drove back Franco units.

The civilian population had fled.

Noted Artist Joins Bud Fete Judges

John F. Carlson, of Woodstock, one of America's most celebrated landscape painters, and a member of the National Academy of Design, today signified his willingness to be a judge in the final selection of the queen for the Apple Blossom Festival.

The final selection will be held at New Paltz on April 30. Madame Queen Maria, soprano of the Metropolitan Opera, of New York city, and Eugene Speicher, of Woodstock, also a noted painter, were the first two judges announced.

Mr. Carlson, who in 1922 founded at Woodstock the John F. Carlson School of Landscape Painting, was born in Sweden. He is a member of many important clubs, is represented in most of the nation's leading galleries, and has a long listing in "Who's Who."

Edmund R. Bower, Ulster county 4-H Club agent and secretary of the executive board of the Apple Blossom Festival, said today he was empowered by the county 4-H group to proceed with his arrangements to have the clubs cooperate in the festival.

The 4-H Clubs, therefore, will aid the Ulster County Legion Auxiliary units in the Bud Donation Day drive to raise funds for the May festival. All funds will be turned over to the Ulster County Legion Auxiliary president, Mrs. Harry A. Whitney, who in turn will give the entire proceeds to the Apple Blossom Festival General Committee.

There will be a meeting of county 4-H executives on Friday at the Schults-Weisberg department store building on Fair street on Friday to discuss several matters of importance to the clubs.

The egg exhibit to be held on April 22 and 23 at the Schults-Weisberg store also was discussed. At this time there will be a judging of eggs and a demonstration by 4-H girls of egg dishes.

This will be open to the public. Miss Everette Parsons of the Home Bureau will be one of the judges. Luncheon will be held at the Kirkland Hotel.

Another matter discussed at the meeting Tuesday afternoon was State 4-H Club Congress which will be held June 26-28 at Ithaca and which may be attended by all 4-H members from 15 years and older. All work during this Congress will be done in Cornell University buildings and there will be education, during the congress, in dairy work, poultry, and vegetable garden. Those attending from this section will go to Ithaca by bus.

The annual 4-H club camp this year will be held the first two weeks in July at the Y. M. C. A. Camp at Glencliff. The Orange County 4-H Clubs will join with Ulster in the camp this year. It is expected that no less than 75 will attend the camp which will instruct in crafts, nature study, swimming, life-saving and fellow-ship. Rates at the camp will be very nominal.

Treasury Receipts
Washington, April 6 (AP).—The position of the treasury on April 4: Receipts, $35,044,119.77; expenditures, $35,472,717.81; balance, $3,038,339,275.46; customs receipts for the month, $3,122,681.31. Blum Apparently Gets Confidence Vote of Deputies

Paris, April 6 (AP).—Premier Leon Blum apparently received a vote of confidence today when the Chamber of Deputies after a bitter debate voted approval of his finance bill by the small majority of 29.

The official count of the vote was 210 to 250.

The test reflected continued confidence in the People's Front as a whole and in the premier in spite of a lukewarm attitude on the part of the Radical-Socialists, one of the three major parties supporting him.

The Rightist party deputy, first in chamber debate to compare the financial and economic powers sought by Blum with President Roosevelt's New Deal measures, said:

"The American experiment must show us that the controlled economy the premier proposes will not work."

Other speakers had likened the premier's program to the Soviet Russian administrative methods.

The tall, lanky Rightist leader, shouting above interruptions from Leftist benches, asserted that Blum's decree measures meant "inflation—whether we consider it camouflaged inflation or franc inflation, it remains inflation."

Strikes Increased, meanwhile, as the Premier continued against tremendous odds his fight for the sweeping decree powers.

Chamber deputies said President Lebrun already was laying the groundwork for a new government to succeed Blum's People's Front Cabinet.

It was reported in chamber circles that the president conferred last night with Defense Minister Edouard Daladier, and there was belief a new cabinet would be formed around Daladier, with Paul Reynaud as Finance Minister.

Lebrun's object in beginning talks before Blum went to the Senate with almost certain defeat in prospect for his bill was.

Texas Questions Six Suspects

El Paso, Tex., April 6 (AP).—A co-ordinated effort to solve the week-old robbery-torture slayings of Mrs. Weston G. Frome, 46, and her 23-year-old daughter, Nancy, was started today as officers held six persons for questioning in three states.

The latest arrests were at Laredo, Tex., where Constable Ed Wormser held a 23-year-old salesman and his 19-year-old wife for questioning. They said they lived in Berkeley, Calif., the Fromes' home town, that they had been in the same social circles with Nancy Frome and that they knew the mother and daughter planned a trip to South Carolina to visit relatives.

At Rankin, Sheriff W. C. Fowler said he did not believe that a 20-year-old man arrested at McCombs was implicated directly, but that a bag found in his possession fitted the description of some of the Frome luggage.

A 46-year-old filling station operator, who said he just had returned from a trip to New Mexico, was held at Cordell, Okla. The arrest was made at the request of Alamo, N. M., officers, who were holding a man described as a Port Stillo, Okla., army deserter. The Cordell man held at Alamo.

Three Homeless Men Seek Lodging at Catskill, Today Two Are Dead; Third Found on Highway

Two homeless men are dead and a third is in the Greene County Memorial Hospital stone blind as the result of drinking, what the authorities believe was canned heat.

The three men applied for a night's lodging at the Greene County jail in Catskill last night. At that time the three were all badly intoxicated. This morning two of the men were allowed to leave the jail, but the third man, who apparently was more intoxicated than his companions, was held.

The man kept in jail was Edward O'Brien, who said he had no home, when he registered. About 11 o'clock this morning jail attendants found him lying on the floor of his cell.

A little later, another of the three men, Thomas Black, also without a home, was found dead on the Catskill State close to the state highway, while the third man, Martin Lyons, also homeless, was found stone blind at Catskill hospital.

Harvard Survey Says Rest Only Cold Cure

New York, April 6 (AP).—Sixteen hundred and sixty-seven Harvard students who lost 70 years of time in 31 months from common colds and respiratory infection were cited today as proof that for colds and the like there is only one preventive and one cure—rest.

The study was reported by Arlie V. Buck, M. D., of Boston.

In the Stillman Infirmary at Harvard the students were given every established kind of treatment, but only complete rest in bed had much real effect, Dr. Buck said.

For colds, he said, the "common-sense" treatment that Hippocrates, father of medicine, started nearly 2,400 years ago, "It saves," Dr. Buck said, "time, trouble and money."

In the Harvard studies, little evidence was found that vaccines against colds and respiratory infections are effective. Few drugs were potent.

Wage-Hour Agreement Must Be Handled That Way, NEBB Says—Labor Hails Decision

Ruling Carries Out Contentment of Steel Workers During Strike Last Year

Washington, April 6 (AP).—The Labor Relations Board ordered an employer for the first time today to sign a contract covering any collective bargaining agreement reached with labor.

Advancing beyond court-tested precedents in a decision immediately hailed by labor leaders, the board told Inland Steel Corporation not only to bargain with C. I. O.'s steel committee but, if an agreement was reached, to put it in writing.

Union spokesmen contended the board's decision wrote a new definition of how collective bargaining should proceed. Board officials, refusing to comment publicly, expected a court battle over this newest trial of the government's power in labor disputes.

A written wage-hour agreement had been demanded by the steel workers organizing committee (C. I. O.) in last summer's bitterly fought "Little Steel" strike. If the courts uphold the board order, John L. Lewis' union will have won the issue of a bloody industrial struggle.

Last Summer's Vow
At the outset of last summer's strike, Inland Steel along with Bethlehem Steel, Republic Steel and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, vowed it would never sign a contract with the "trespassing" Lewis union. The steel makers said they would deal with the S.W.O.C. or any other union representing their employees, but that the Wagner labor disputes act did not require them to sign any agreement that might result from negotiations.

Today the board told Inland its refusal to sign was a violation of the act. This had been the cry of thousands of grumpy steel workers who marched out of the mills last May 26.

Bloodshed, rioting, court action of various descriptions, and endless charges and countercharges marked the course of the strike for the next six weeks. Federal mediation proved futile, and the "trespassing" Lewis union, chairman of the Republic Steel Corporation, stood their ground, despite President Roosevelt's statement that he could not understand why anyone who had reached an agreement would refuse to put it in writing.

The Inland strike ended July 1 under a truce arranged by Governor Clifford Townsend of Indiana. The others gradually wore themselves out.

Series of Orders

Today's order that Inland Steel must sign any agreement reached, marked the culmination of a series of labor board orders on the processes of collective bargaining. Several times the board has held the employer must make a "bona fide" effort to reach an agreement. Merely meeting a union

Manhattan Officials to Put Emergency Sales Levies Into Effect Monday

New York, April 6 (AP).—A 10 per cent cut in home relief allowances was rescinded today as officials prepared to put into effect next Monday emergency sales taxes expected to add $18,000,000 annually to New York city's relief fund.

Most controversial of the levies approved yesterday by city council and the board of estimate was a one cent tax on every cigarette.

Other imposts included a 3 per cent tax on gas, electricity, refrigeration and telephone service; a 2 per cent tax on liquor and alcoholic drinks except beer and malt beverages; a 3 per cent tax on restaurant meals costing more than $1; a 3 per cent tax on the income of conduit companies and an enlargement of the gross business tax by decreased exemptions.

The levies on utilities service, liquor, and restaurant meals passed by a substantial majority. Council voted down proposals to raise the funds by a city lottery or by increasing the five-cent subway fare.

The new tax program, sponsored by Mayor Fiorella La Guardia, to avoid a threatened relief deficit, was fought by merchant and consumer groups but passed by a substantial majority.

Common Council Ends Ordinance

one-way street provision for truck traffic was unanimously adopted as was the amendment replacing the stop and go lights with stop signs.

The action taken by the council last evening was the outcome of a public hearing held several weeks ago in which residents of East Chester street, Albany avenue and Foxhall avenue objected to the traffic regulation in force and asked that it be repealed. On the other hand residents, through whose efforts the council had adopted the provision, fought strenuously to have it retained in force.

When the restricting limiting northbound traffic to pleasure cars between the hours of 10 p. m. and 8 a. m., was adopted no resident of East Chester street, Albany avenue or Foxhall avenue appeared and objected.

It was only when the ordinance was in force for some time that objections were made which led to the council rescinding its previous action.

Gas Taxes For City?

Alderman Cornwell introduced the resolution addressed to the eighth Constitutional Convention now in session, which was seconded by Alderman Robertson.

The resolution stated that as one of the matters to be considered by the convention is the tax structure of the state and that as the cities and villages of the state do not receive any portion of the state collected motor vehicle fees and gasoline taxes, and that as the cities and villages must provide and maintain highways within their borders for the accommodation of through motor traffic, but get no share of the tax being paid by that traffic for highway purposes, that the convention provide in the state constitution for a more equitable distribution of motor vehicle fees and gasoline taxes, a suggested basis of the distribution being the factor of population of each city and village and the factor of the number of miles of federal and state interconnecting highways within the corporate limits of such city and village, and that the taxes so distributed be used exclusively for street construction, reconstruction and maintenance, street lighting, snow removal and traffic maintenance.

A copy of the resolution is to be forwarded to the convention and to the delegates from this district. For the past three years the subject of better ventilation in the municipal auditorium has been under consideration by the building committee of the council and last evening Alderman Tromper offered a resolution that the council empower the building committee to expend the $1,000 placed in the budget for that purpose to equip the auditorium with a ventilating system.

unanimously adopted, even Alderman

Nathan voting "Yes."

Bills were read and audited and the council then adjourned.

Institute to Tell Needs of Tourists

In conjunction with the Apple Blossom Festival, a tourist institute will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Governor Clinton Hotel. The institute is a direct outgrowth of the tourist housing committee, and is being given under the auspices of the Ulster County Home Bureau.

Home makers who have had experience with catering to the tourist will share their practical problems with those planning to house the visitors expected for the festival. A panel discussion will be led by Mrs. John E. Gibbons, of Kingston, Mrs. Birdsall Taber, of Kingston, Mrs. Frederick Bond, of Milton, Mrs. Charles Brandt, of Hurley, and Mrs. Percy Gazley, of Accord.

The general recommendations in accommodating tourists will be discussed by Mrs. Taber and Mrs. Bond will tell the problems in planning to serve food to tourists. Recently a questionnaire was sent out by Cornell University to homemakers in New York state, the purpose of which was to discover the minimum essentials for keeping tourists and how to make the atmosphere and conditions most pleasing. A summary of this questionnaire will also be given at Thursday's institute. The meeting will be presided over by Mrs. Raymond LeFever.

An additional help to the tourist homemaker is a display room in the window of The Harbinger Company on Main street, which is attracting much comment. It shows how the furnishings in a home can be used to provide surroundings for a tourist room, given a good spring and a good mattress. Additional material in the display room has been loaned by The Wonderful Company, the Governor Clinton Gift Shop, and county homemakers.

The room was arranged by two housing leaders in Ulster County, Mrs. Warren Deyo, and Mrs. Elwyn Sheeley, of Wallkill.

The easiest way to make your enemy seem hateful to everybody is to hold him up as a model for the community.

Special Settings For Play Here by The Theatre Group

Special settings for "Pride and Prejudice" which will be presented on Thursday evening at the High School Auditorium are being done by Fred Johnston for the Theatre Association. Mr. Johnston has volunteered to take over complete management of scenery.

Thousands of dollars worth of antiques will be seen in "Pride and Prejudice." The Regency period will be authentically revived for its audience. Emphasis has been placed on the use of drapes which have been carefully copied from old prints. Since at the present time there is a classic revival of the Regency style the settings will be of special interest.

The first set will be Early Regency and will be done entirely in maple. The second will display Chippendale furniture; while the third will be most impressive, involving rich mahogany, crystal, beautiful satins and candelabra.

Mr. Johnston's work has appeared in the better known decorating magazines and he has done interior decorating in Wilmington, Delaware and New York as well as in Ulster county. In cooperating with the Theatre group he is helping it to bring to Kingston an accurate and charming reproduction of this 1812 classic, "Pride and Prejudice."

Farmers in West Use Advertising

San Francisco (AP).—Thirty years ago a group of California farmers bought their first full page of advertising. They advertised oranges in the Des Moines Register. Orange sales increased 50 per cent in Iowa that year.

Ralph H. Taylor, executive secretary of the California Agriculture Council, recalling the incident, said that forty California farm cooperatives had advertising campaigns this year to aid 70,000 producers.

Mr. Taylor reported that the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, the cooperative which tried that first full page, had spent $25,000,000 in advertising since then and had doubled the national consumption of oranges.

"The man with the hoe," he said, "has become the man with the ad."

KINGSTON, N. Y., APR. 6, 1938

A THANKFUL BOY

The importance of the government's proposal to help the persecuted of other lands is brought home to us in a vivid way by a school boy in New York City. This sixteen-year-old lad came to America three years ago, a refugee from Germany. Recently he wrote a prayer of thanksgiving
 inspired by his experiences in America. It was printed in his school paper and has been made public by the superintendent of schools, who thinks it ought to be read by the whole nation.
 Here are some of the things for which this foreign-born boy is thankful:

The opportunity to be educated in the United States of America;
 the privilege of saluting the flag,
 participating in national ceremonies, singing the national anthem without having some one tell him that he may not because of his race; living in a country
 governed by democracy instead of force.

He is thankful for many privileges unheard of in Europe,
 for being in a country which gives him a chance to realize his ambitions, where "the youth of all races have a tomorrow, rather than in my native land where the youth of a race is without a tomorrow." "I am thankful that I live in a land where one is not persecuted. I am thankful that I am happy and free."

Such observations and gratitude make a native American very thoughtful. Here are matters we take for granted, which are new and wonderful to a fellow human being.

THE OLD TUNES

The controversy aroused by the jazzing and "swinging" of old,
 beloved songs is growing louder.
 One indignant patriot writes:

If unlearned, probably the swing-mad radiators will be trying to pep up "Nearer My God to Thee,"
 "Lead, Kindly Light" and other fine hymns, and invading our churches with big apple dances
 and leering saxophones.

These songs, and many popular songs almost as sacred, do not belong to the swingers. They belong to us and our forebears who composed them, and they are woven deep into our hearts.

If the air must be cluttered up with unearthy howlings and yelpings of the instruments of swing and jazz, for goodness' sake let the jazz-minded create their own songs, and not debauch those which were produced by their letters.

The language is violent but the cause is just. To people who love
 the old songs, the familiar music is as precious as the words. Why should anyone take such liberties with it as some of the swing artists have been taking? Let them compose new swing tunes as much as they like; but they have no more artistic right to change
 the old tunes than they would have to change the wording of familiar poems.

NON-INTERFERENCE

Herbert Hoover, reporting to America after looking Europe
 over, reminds us that we have to get along with other nations,
 whether we approve of them or not. "If the world is to keep the peace," he says, "then we must keep peace with the dictatorships
 as well as with popular governments. The forms of government which other people pass through in working out their destinies is not our business."

Of course, we should not interfere with the governments we don't like. There is no reason, however, why we should not say
 among ourselves what we think about them, and why. In fact, it is important to do so, so that we may understand clearly what the political conditions are in foreign countries, what the differences are between varying forms and theories of government and economies, and what we must do at home to safeguard our chosen system. It is only by comparison and contrast that individuals or nations can understand themselves

 and choose wisely their own modes of life.

SKITTERY WORLD

The hurry in the Japanese press over the report that a "mystery warship" had entered the harbor of one of Japan's mandated islands in the western Pacific shows the state of mind that nations have got into. The warship was said to have entered in the middle of the night, and raked
 the harbor and surrounding hills
 with its powerful searchlights,
 after which it departed as stealth-ily as it had come. The island referred to is not far from Guam,
 which is owned by the United States. "The mystery," said a Tokyo newspaper, "is connected with the fact that the United States Navy has expanded the area of its grand Pacific maneuvers."

Authoritative statements at Washington say there has been no American warship within 2,400 miles of the place. All the governments nowadays are "seeing things" and "knowing things" that ain't so. And there doesn't seem to be much that anybody can do about it.

EXTRA FOOD IN GOITRE.

There are many cases of goitre
 where the physician is undecided
 as to operation. He knows that the patient could afford the time and money and would get results
 almost immediately, but there are other matters that must be considered.

In many cases X-ray treatment solves the problem notwithstanding that this often requires months of treatment. In some early or threatened cases, rest and iodine give results.

Some years ago when a patient became nervous, easily upset, irritable, and was losing weight,
 some high-ranking physicians put
 those patients to bed in a dark,
 quiet room and fed them as much food as they could get to eat.

The food was made as inviting as possible and the patient's likes and dislikes in food were carefully considered. Sometimes the results were gratifying and other times the patients were really worse than before.

This "forced feeding" with hard exercise has been used with good results in patients with early mental symptoms as the food nourished, the exercise strengthened the body, the circulation of the blood was improved, and the quality of the blood itself was improved.

Now these physicians are trying out this treatment of giving large quantities of food to their early thyroid or goitre patients.
 Those patients have the usual symptoms—rapid heart, nervousness, poor appetite and sleeplessness.

Dr. Israel Bram, Philadelphia,
 author of "Exophthalmic Goitre and its Treatment," has this to say in Medical Record:

"Diet is paramount in the treatment of exophthalmic goitre.
 The sufferer—usually very thin—
 must eat his way to health. All stimulants—tea, coffee, tobacco
 and alcohol must be forbidden.
 Small amounts of meats may be given once a day. The average patient requires practically twice the amount of food that would be taken during health. An index of approaching recovery is a gain in weight."

As much rest as possible should be taken but Dr. Bram points out that there are many of these patients who must continue working or earning.

While most physicians are of the opinion that removal of all or a part of the thyroid gland is the shortest and most satisfactory
 method of attaining results, this method of extra food in early cases may quite logically be an "excellent method of treatment for those who must continue to work."

Overweight and Underweight.
 A splendid booklet by Dr. Barton dealing with your weight as a factor in good health is available. It is entitled "Overweight and Underweight." Do you weigh too much or too little?

What do you do to control your weight? Send for this booklet

The Story So Far: Judith Goodloe has the code of an old Maryland family to support her.
 Reuben Oliver has only the ethics of his own making. Loving another man, Judith marries Reuben for his money, and after the wedding, that his fortune has been lost, Reuben loves Judith desperately, but offers to release her. Judith determines to stick to her bargain.

Chapter 20

Gentleman's Agreement

REUBEN'S failure was as complete as the darkness which follows the blowing out of a fire in a high powered electric light. If he went whining to Clem—if he went like a whipped dog with his tail between his legs—but he wouldn't go. He'd stay here—pick up a chance!

At lunch time with a humility
 that sat strangely upon him he told Judith the worst. "The trip is off. I've got to stay and fight for my life." He took the envelope containing two long strips of tickets from his pocket. "I'm turning these in," he said, "purposely. I've avoided looking at them. When I'm going down to the liner, there may be telegrams of importance."

"I'll go with you."
 "Won't it make you feel terribly?"
 "No."
 "I'll take you everywhere some day."

She had never been on a big boat before. She was childishly delighted with everything she saw.
 The great wall of the ship's sides, rushing stewards. Laughing, chatting groups of people.

The cabin that was to have been theirs was literally lined with flowers, candy, books. Belated wedding presents, that had been sent directly to the liner.

Hurriedly Judith read cards. At last she came to the one she searched for—"Oodles of love and good luck from Gary," the card read. It was attached to an Indian bracelet of beaten silver and set with amethysts—an inexpensive,
 artistic trifle—"Oodles of love—"

Judith slipped the bracelet over her wrist and held it out for her husband's blessing. "From Gary"—a bit breathlessly.

Reuben glanced at it critically.
 "A cheap thing!"
 "But pretty."
 "Quite. A duplicate of the one Cissy wore at our wedding."

"I thought it had a familiar look," Judith achieved a lightness.
 "Ready?" Reuben studied a letter in his pocket. "Did you ever see so much plunder?"

"How will we get it all away?"
 "We'll let it stay!"
 "Let it stay? Wedding presents
 —bon voyage gifts—I want them,
 every one."

The stuff filled four trunks beside the one they rode in.
 The next day they moved from the elaborate suite to a room, with bath. The gay baskets with their pert bows, the flowers, the boxes left little space for Judith and Reuben. He had to remove long stemmed American Beauties from the bath tub before he could bathe.

He tied his before a mirror almost obliterated with blooms.
 Forty-eight hours in New York convinced Reuben that he could not come back without ready cash.
 A man with more background
 could undoubtedly have staved off dire poverty, but Reuben had flashed meteor like from nowhere.
 He was doomed to be swallowed up by obscurity just as quickly.

"I Refuse To Stoop"
 HE had one hope—one candle still unburnt. He told Judy that it was that.
 "I can start again—make you comfortable, Judy, if—"

This spirit of courage deserted him. He sounded unconvincing even to himself.
 "I rushed on striving for casualty: 'If you will lend me $100—000 of the money I gave you.'"

She was too surprised for speech. The silence was so prolonged it curdled as cream does under sudden summer lightning.
 "I'm not asking you to recall—
 a gift?"
 "You're asking me to recall—
 a gift?"
 "What would you think except that I'm in a hole? Does what Gran thinks mean more to you than—my future—my very existence?"

"What Gran thinks of you means exactly nothing. What she thinks of me means a lot."
 With effort he controlled his temper. If he could make her see with his eyes, "Judith—"
 She hastened to defend herself.
 "The money means little to me—for myself. You know that."

Misses Ruth and Leona Morris,
 Mrs. Merritt and daughter, Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. M. Law and Janis Law.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Johnson were in Bearsville on Sunday.
 Miss Ruth Morris, who is a nurse in Albany, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.
 Morris.

Mr. and Mrs. West Holden, of Kingston, called on relatives in this place on Sunday.

Cyrus Law of New Jersey, has returned home after spending a few days in this place.

Mrs. A. Quick, Mrs. M. Larkin
 and Mrs. Craig visited Mrs. Chase on Friday.

Mrs. R. Stokes spent Friday
 in Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Jones and daughters of Lexington were callers in this place on Thursday.

Miss Ruth Morris was a super guest of Mrs. J. Morrissey on Thursday.

In state legislatures in 1927
 there were 140 women in 35 states.

"I wish it meant more."
 "Perhaps it's just as well since things have turned out so badly."
 "That's the point. You can turn the tide. Saving your husband," with a rush of rage, "should mean more than saving your pride."
 "You mean saving you should mean more than saving my people."

"You can't grasp it. Listen—"
 "I grasp it too well."
 "I've struggled—I'm still floating. Are you going to let me be swept under when a little cash or," with sudden inspiration, "a mortgage on the boxwood—"

It was match to tinder. "Do you know what a gentleman's agreement is?"
 "How should I know?" coldly.
 They glared, two savages for the moment.

"I refuse to help me?" Reuben could not quite believe it. He looked at her without seeing her.
 His mind went back to the days
 when all life was shared—willingly or by stealth. "You refuse?"
 "I refuse to stoop to something I'd be ashamed to remember all my life."

"So that's it?"
 "I married you, that's my part of the bond. I'll live up to it as best I can. The money was your part—now you want it back! Well," she raised defiant eyes to his, "you won't get it! I'm going to keep them—safe."

"Then go home and be safe with them," angrily.
 A breathless moment ticked away. "I'll make all allowances for you, Reuben. You're worried." Her quiet scorn was more searing than any outburst. "What's poverty to fear?"

HE surveyed her slowly. From the décolletage of her black velvet gown, her neck and shoulders arose ivory tints, satin smooth. He felt a sudden pity for her, felt his anger ebbing. "Sit down, Judith. I want to talk to you."

She sat on one of the twin beds.
 He sat on the other. He was wearing a dinner jacket, a white shirt, and a bow tie. He looked like a man who has the world in a sling. He said with a slight hesitance: "You know I have neither background nor influence, such as has surrounded
 you all your life?"

"I know."
 "I have a few friends—darn good ones. I can borrow a little from each."

When she said nothing his resentment flared anew. "That doesn't shock you?"
 "They're your friends," she reminded him.

He felt a savage desire to hit her, to hurt her. She was goading him too far.
 "I have my own notions of what's white and what's yellow."
 He smiled crookedly. "I learned to discriminate in a hard school where you have to do your thinking quickly and straight."

Not quite meaning to be found himself telling her something of his early life.
 "For instance, beautiful. Cruel too.
 Cold. Hunger stalking with the wild beasts. The valiant effort of the 11 year old boy to act a man's part."

"To share with a buddy, take your medicine standing, fight for your rights, not to lie or cheat—"
 "That's about all I had to go on."
 "Until now it had always been enough."

She was stirred by pity of the sort one feels for an ill used animal. Pity without the sympathy of kinship. Coarse men, dirty, ignorant, rough, were alien to her.

He felt something of this, but the lookbacks were opened. Even in those days with men cursing, fighting, killing, I think I knew
 there would some day be you, Judith. I had my dream of wife and home. It was for you I wanted power, leisure, all that was finest and best. I never want you to touch the dark side of life!"

He tried again to make her understand what poverty was a gradual letting down. Squalor.
 Dignified Defeat.
 "I'm not afraid of those things, Reuben. I'm sticking."

They moved to a smaller hotel.
 Judith gave the chambermaid the ornamental baskets. She stored
 the wedding presents in the closet.
 Judith spent the day in the out of doors. Each evening when Reuben came home tired and discouraged, he found her waiting,
 defiantly cheerful, bubbling over
 with news of the day.

He found her chatter soothing.
 It helped him to forget—for a while; to gather courage to face
 the day.

They never mentioned the hedge or borrowing money from Gran again. They seldom mentioned anything of vital importance. Instead they went nonchalantly to theaters, to night clubs where they spent money they could not afford to spend. Throb of drums. Beat of saxophones. Haze of smoke. High-toned music. Glitter of glasses.
 Forgetfulness for an hour.

PLAIN WORDS FROM A WELL-MEANING UNCLE

By BRESSLER

YOUR NEW YORK STATE INCOME TAX

By MARK GRAVES,
 Commissioner of Taxation and Finance

Deductions For Taxes
 Continuing my explanation of deductions allowable under the New York state personal income tax, I shall consider today the payment of other taxes.

Levies on real property, other than assessments for improvements, automobile license fees and State gasoline taxes may be subtracted from gross income.
 Federal taxes on telephone and telegraphic messages, safety deposit boxes, club dues, admissions, and the various stamp taxes on securities and deeds are likewise deductible.

It is well to note, however,
 that many other federal taxes are not deductible in the computation of net income, for the reason that they fall upon the manufacturer or distributor and are not levied against the purchaser or consumer.

Included in this nondeductible
 group are the levies upon automobiles, lubricating oil, gasoline,
 tires and other automobile accessories, cigarettes, chewing gum, candy, fire arms, watches,
 soft drinks, jewelry, malt syrup,
 grape concentrate, radios, phonograph records and a variety of others in the same category.

Neither federal nor state income tax payments are deductible.
 Further, it is well to point out that nonresidents are allowed deductions for taxes only when they are definitely connected with their New York income or with property located in this state, which is carried as an investment.

General Deductions
 The average taxpayer is more interested in allowable deductions
 than in any other phase of the law, so we shall consider today
 just what constitutes lawful deductions.

All ordinary and necessary expenses of business may be deducted in computing taxable net income under New York state's personal income tax.

Ordinary and necessary expenses may be defined as those costs made necessary in the carrying on of the taxpayer's business.
 Rent, salaries, wages and commission, paid to employees and all other similar expenses fall in this category and may be deducted from gross income.

Many taxpayers, who do not conduct a business themselves and whose income is based on salaries or commissions, incur certain necessary expenses in order to earn their incomes. These expenses may include the operation of an automobile and other similar expenditures. Such sums are also deductible from that taxpayer's income. Transportation from home to office, however, is not included.

Interest charges of practically every nature are likewise deductible. For example, carrying charges on mortgages, even though such charges may be on a personal residence, fall in the deductible items.

Bad debts must be completely substantiated if a deduction is to be allowed. In support of such a claim, the department requires proof that the debt is entirely worthless and charged off on the taxpayer's books during the taxable year. Worthless debts may not be deducted if carried over for a period of several years. For the taxpayer's own benefit, the deduction should be claimed as soon as it becomes apparent that the debt is not collectible.

COUNTY
Christian Endeavor
NEWS

Union Vesper Service
 The annual Easter Vesper Service of the Ulster County Christian Endeavor Union will be held Easter Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock at Bethany Chapel, Kingston. Five young people of the Rosendale group with a like number from the Bethany Society will present
 the life of Christ from the manger to the Resurrection morning. All Endeavorers and friends are invited to this service.

Convention Dates
 The Empire State Christian Endeavor Convention will be held in Brooklyn, June 30-July 3. The var-ous Brooklyn societies will play host to Endeavorers from all over the state who will visit the "hometown" of the state president, Howard G. Launsbach. The program for this convention has not been released and the convention booster for this district will be appointed by President Roosa in the near future.

Summer Assembly
 The annual State Summer Assembly will again be held at Montaur Falls on August 7-14. This yearly get-together represents an ideal vacation combining inspiration, fellowship, education, sports,
 and many other opportunities.
 More information concerning this assembly will be published later.

Devotional Meeting
 According to the original plan,
 that of holding a county-sponsored devotional meeting every two months, the next meeting will be held May 29. The location and the nature of the meeting have not been definitely settled and ideas as to place or meeting should be submitted to Miss Frances K. Roosa, New Paltz, or Henry
 P. Elmgrove, 62 East Chester street, Kingston.

If They Should Topple

When one reads of the slides on the 9-W highway over Bear Mountain and then drives along that part of East Union street known as the High Road, just off Hasbrouck avenue, and glances at the huge boulders that dot the steep hillside, looking almost ready to topple over onto the highway, the driver or pedestrian wonders what would happen if one of the boulders should let loose and come rolling down.

A Freeman photographer driving over the High Road when the snow still covered the ground glanced at the towering mass of boulders and then took a shot at them. What his lens disclosed is shown in the above photograph.

While the huge pile of rocks, each one weighing many tons, look ready at any time to start a downward plunge, they have stood for many years on the steep slope on the left hand side of the High Road as one drives toward Ponckhockie. On the right side is a 50 or more foot drop into the railroad yards of the former Ulster & Delaware Railroad.

Many drive along the High Road for the exquisite view one gets of the Hudson river as it winds majestically on the way to the ocean, while a view is also obtained of the Rondout Creek Bridge and the lower section of the city. Away across the river may be seen the Berkshires pointing their crest toward the sky.

At Lillehammer, Norway, is a great folk museum containing many priceless Norse antiques. It was started 50 years ago by a doctor who used to accept pieces of old furniture from family attics in place of cash payment for his services. A relic a day kept the doctor's bill away.

IT'S ODD But It's Science

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(AP Science Editor)

Ithaca, N. Y.—If vitamin C is wanted, it would be well to drink the cooking water from peas. That is where 40 to 50 per cent of this vitamin goes when peas are cooked. Scientists used to think that cooking destroyed much of the vitamin C of peas.

But Faith Fenton, assistant professor of home economics at Cornell University, made an extensive study of losses of vitamin C during the cooking of peas and found out differently. The old test was to feed the cooked peas to animals. But animals did not like the cooking water. Hence the fact that about half the vitamin C went into the water escaped discovery.

Professor Fenton learned that the water in which she cooked peas contained almost as much of this vitamin as tomato juice, one of the best sources for vitamin C. Some of the vitamin in peas is destroyed in cooking, but not much. The loss in the first five minutes is 7 to 10 per cent. This occurs mainly while the water is coming to a boil. Thereafter an hour's cooking adds not more than a further 5 per cent destruction. After the hour's cooking, there is no more vitamin C loss.

A little of the vitamin is lost when peas stand too long before serving.

TB Test Under Way at Schools

With the endorsement of the Ulster County Medical Society and the State Department of Education a campaign for a tuberculin testing survey among school children was launched by Dr. Frederick Holcomb, superintendent of the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital in 1933. The cooperation of health officers, nurses, school authorities, school physicians, family doctors, teachers and parents has been most gratifying.

Over 14,000 children throughout the county have been tested and many unsuspected and contagious cases of tuberculosis discovered.

Because of the special importance of health in the high school age group Dr. Holcomb has recommended a program of tuberculin testing every first year high school student in Ulster county. The test will be given in the high schools annually. If the pupil shows a positive reaction he will be retested or X-rayed at the Ulster County Tuberculosis Hospital and a report mailed to the family physician if any significant finding is discovered. A written request of the parent is necessary before this health measure can be carried out.

On March 15 the freshmen of the Saugerties High School were tuberculin tested. The response at this school was most satisfactory. Ellenville High School pupils will be tested April 25, Highland High School, April 27, and Kerhonkson High School, May 2. Plans are now being formulated in other high schools throughout the county. Prior to the tuberculin testing program, high school assemblies will be addressed on the subject of tuberculosis and the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health's films "The Story of My Life" by TB, and "Behind the Shadows" will be shown so that pupils will feel the importance of the tuberculin testing and be fully informed of the program on prevention of tuberculosis.

Informal Town Kit

These are the days when we feel the urge to discard the sombre trappings of winter and break out with brighter clothes appropriate to the time of year. Shown in this week's column are a number of suggestions expressing a young man's fancy and good taste in the spring.

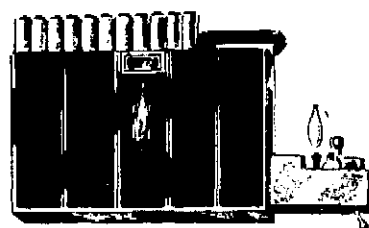

If you're planning to go out to the country a pair of brown buckskin blucher shoes with leather soles are recommended. They are smart, comfortable and practical.

Here's the new purse glove. It comes in all accepted leathers and has a pocket in the left palm that closes with a slide fastener. It keeps your change and keys handy and eliminates pocket fumbling.

A single-breasted fly front peak lapel natural tan covert cloth topcoat is about tops in spring coats. This young man wears it with a marine blue flannel chalk stripe suit, brown calf town shoes, white starched collar, a tied-and-dyed pattern tie and a snap brim felt hat.

This clever and useful accessory consists of a combination lighter and cigarette case. When you pull the lighter out from the end of the case it lights automatically. Just the right size to fit into your waistcoat pocket.

Esquire's eti-query

The tall thin man, as we find from our mail, has many dress problems. In most cases he will look well in town, in double-breasted model suits with the lapel rolling, in the case of two button models, to the top. Particularly suitable for tall men is the four-button front. He should avoid cuffless trousers and strongly striped patterns. Dark suits are sometimes necessary, but on the whole he will look best in suits of a medium shade. Glenurquhart plaids and Shepherd checks will look well on him in the country, and he also wears to advantage the heavier type of fabrics such as Harris tweed and heavier chevrons.

diagonal tweed is well suited to this type. He should avoid single-breasted fly front overcoats and high tapered crown hats.

The collar best suited to him is the wide spread model and he should not wear collars with long points. He can wear a bow tie to advantage and will look well in a horizontal stripe demibosom shirt in town.

He should favor low crown hats such as the porkpie and Get a fresh pair of suspenders and garters for these fresh spring days. And while you're about it, why not get a matching set? They're a smart note, even if nobody sees them but yourself.

White Folks Flock To See Passion Play For Negroes

Crucifixion Scene From Chicago's Negro Passion Play

By AURELIUS KINSEY
(AP Feature Service Writer)

Chicago—A passion play presented by 40 negro men and women has attracted thousands of persons, white and black, to Corpus Christi Church in Chicago's south side.

The costumed pantomime dramatization of "The Way of the Cross" by negro members of the Catholic faith is given as a Lenten service under direction of the Franciscan fathers. The modern-phased script was written by the Rev. David Hochman, O. F. M., youthful curate of Corpus Christi, who also coaches the players.

Thought Up By Negroes

The "Chicago Oberammergau" was conceived by negroes as a religious expression for the thousands of residents of Chicago's negro section. But the presentation won such praise that persons of all races and creeds flocked to the performances.

The players move through their parts as Father David recounts the narrative, accompanied by specially arranged organ music.

Characterization of the Christus is given by John Sarazen, a 22-year-old high school student. Sheddick Rowell, freight house filling clerk, is the Pontius Pilate and Myrtle Holland, a maid, has the role of his wife, Claudia. Rita Dupont, beauty shop operator, is the Mary Magdalene, and her sister, Rae, stenographer, portrays the Virgin Mother. Clerks, housewives, porters, laborers and a balliff are included in the cast.

Aid to Racial Amity

Among the whites who have sponsored the program are some of Chicago's socially prominent leaders, a superior court judge, university professors and art museum curators.

These patrons and the Rev. Clement Martin, Franciscan guardian and pastor of Corpus Christi Church, believe the religious drama will improve relations between the races.

Actually, this model is being worn, not only by young men, but by a great many mature business men who are essentially conservative in their dress but who like the unobtrusive flattery in this distinctive suit.

The effects achieved by this model — of seemingly adding to one's height, of slenderizing the hip-line and creating an appearance of greater depth at the chest — are all carried out so inconspicuously that they are only noticeable in the general impression of smartness which they create.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

Odd Accident

Greenville, Pa. — Halfback Joseph Marzano plunged through the line for two years with Penn High School's football team and was never injured.

He turned over in bed the other night and dislocated a shoulder.

Feline Choral Society

Salem, Ore. — There aren't enough rats here to keep the cats busy, so they congregate at night. Citizens appealed to the city attorney for help, claiming the nightly chorus keeps the neighborhood awake and frightens little children.

Experienced

Seattle — R. A. Rauert wants to be a policeman, but Seattle's civil service commission is not so sure he should.

He was cited to show cause why his name should not be withdrawn from the eligible list after Police Chief W. H. Sears informed the commission Rauert was "now under arrest on $200 cash bail pending trial for failure to report on 38 traffic violation tags, three speeding charges, and on failure to stop at an arterial crossing."

One Moment, Please!

Chicago — One of former President Hoover's most embarrassing moments:

Within 20 feet of the north western station train gate, Mr. Hoover stopped, disconcerted, and searched his pockets for the tickets. He couldn't find them, and searched again.

Friends thought he might have left them in the car, and started away to see. Mr. Hoover searched a third time and found the tickets in an inner pocket of his jacket. He said he put them there so he could find them in a hurry.

BEARSVILLE

Bearsville, April 5 — Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Shultis and daughter, Louise, Ruth and Elsie, have moved from Woodstock into their newly-built home on the Bearsville hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Shultis have returned to Princeton after spending their spring vacation with Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Shultis.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Phillips spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Truman Phillips in Monticou.

Mrs. George Bassow and daughters, Betty and Janet Cochran, called on Arnold Reynolds this week.

Mrs. J. C. Cornford has returned to Kingston after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reynolds for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Van Neuren of Kingston spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Victor L. Shultis.

Miss Florence Hutton, who has been spending the winter months in Woodstock, returned to Bearsville on Thursday.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Woodstock M. E. Church will hold its monthly meeting on Thursday, April 7, at the church hall.

Victor Shultis made a business trip to New York on Tuesday evening. He was accompanied by Ben Shultis and son, Sherwood.

Rosendale Cleanup.

Rosendale, April 5 — The Rosendale Township Association has set the week of April 11-16 as clean-up week in the township. Members have solicited the aid of the several organizations within the town, together with the town board, village board, state highway department and the people themselves in making this movement a success. Action of this kind has proven its worth each year since it was started by this organization.

Stamps IN THE NEWS

(By James B. Mather)

In the 18th century, slave traders had their strongholds along that part of the West African coast now called French Guinea. Many a baraco, or slave-pen, was built there, with cannon for defense. And the European traders avoided the section because it was hard to navigate.

The new postal set for "Guinee Francaise" pictures three native types on its higher values. A well conceived design shows a negro couple, stressing the woman with her elaborate coiffure and necklaces, and a youth at the side. This design appears on the 1.75, 2.3, 5, 10 and 20-franc denominations.

The 16 lower values—all handsomely engraved—utilize three other designs: a hut between a palm and a banana tree; two basket-weavers at work; a waterfall scene.

Airmails From Reunion

Reunion, the French island colony in the Indian ocean, has just acquired its first airmails—a neat, attractive set of four bi-colored stamps. The single design shows a monoplane flying above the steep slope of a volcanic mountain and two small palms far below. Values are 3.65, 6.65, 9.65 and 12.65 francs.

The slave trade went on here, too, until 1817. And slavery continued on Reunion until 1848 when 60,000 negroes were freed. The island's first inhabitants were a dozen mutineers who were deported from Madagascar in 1646. Today the people of Reunion are creoles (the first French settlers married Malagasy women), mulattoes, negroes, Indians and other Asians. They grow sugar cane and vanilla.

What About Austria?

After the Saar plebiscite in 1935, that territory's philatelic future folded up. German stamps were used henceforth.

Now that the Nazis have annexed Austria, the same thing probably will happen there. Germany might issue a commemorative, exalting over the Anschluss, which would compare with the Saar jubilee issue of 1935. Provisional overprints on Austrian remainders are of course a possibility.

Reports from Vienna told of a special cachet, bearing a swastika and the words "The Leader is in Vienna," which was used in that city March 15. The Nazis promptly declared invalid the 10-schilling Dollfuss stamp of 1936 and the Dollfuss mourning issue of 1934. As usual, "Philately follows the flag."

Brown Wins a Trophy

In the Intercollegiate Philatelic exhibition held by Philatikus, Columbia university stamp society, frames were submitted by collectors of five colleges. The Nicholas Murray Butler trophy went to a boy from Brown — Robert B. Sykes, Jr.—for his frame of Rhodesia.

Paraguay and Bolivia are the only nations of the new world which have no outlet to the sea.

TO BE SURE YOU ENJOY THIS GLORIOUS, PERFECT EASTER FEELING

don't set a price on your head!

Buy a hat because you like it . . . You're prettier in it . . . or you're bored with the one you have. But never, never buy a hat just because it's cheap. A cheap hat comes too high. It gives both itself — and you — away. Yet a good hat needn't cost a penny more! Which is why we say: don't look at the price tag — look at the label. If it's the PARIS, it's backed by one of the oldest millinery shops in New York State. We've plenty of inexpensive hats* — but there isn't a cheap hat in our store.

FOR OLD ONES

OUR PRICE IS LOW

We are now running a "Fashion Exchange" in our store. Come in with that problem figure of yours, and let us exchange it for a newslim, slender form, to accomplish which we offer the Rengocorsetlette slatched.

Its soft knitted rayon jersey uplift molds the busts into a youthful contour. Its concealed diaphragm boning, well boned back, knitted elastic sidepanels, firm rayon batiste richly brocaded, all combined in one perfect foundation will give you a figure to boast about. Of usual good Rengo quality, our price is moderate.

MISS MARGARET HAMILTON and MISS KATHRYN MARTIN,

Labor Problem Is Chief Topic

ceasing without federal financial aid. Proposals thus far discussed would put the state on "its own" in such projects.

The 1938 legislature initiated several amendments to the Constitution relating to the problem, including one designed to create a $200,000,000 state revolving fund from which loans would be made to Municipal Housing Authorities.

Chief Judge Frederick E. Crane of the Court of Appeals, Republican president of the convention, considered the personnel of the 34 committees which will draft proposals for amending the Constitution and study those introduced by other delegates.

Mechanical Details

During the recess, other mechanical details of the convention also will be worked out. It is expected that the first of an estimated 100 or more recommendations will be started through the mill immediately after the delegates return.

The convention will operate under the rules of the last similar gathering in 1915 except for a few minor amendments, including changes in the names, but not the powers, of some committees, and reductions or increases in the membership of other groups.

New committees named in addition to those which functioned 23 years ago include an 11-member agriculture group, an 11-member committee on highway and grade crossings and a 17-member committee on housing.

Joseph A. McGinnies, Chautauqua county, former Republican speaker of the state Assembly, is chairman of the powerful rules committee which will govern the parliamentary procedure of the convention.

Sessions Each Monday

Sessions will be held each Monday night, beginning at 8 p. m., and from Tuesday to Friday starting at 10 a. m. A five-day week was decided upon to speed the session, which some leaders believe can be ended by late August.

Under the law, it must conclude at least six weeks prior to the November election at which the revised law will be submitted to the electorate. In 1915, when the Constitution recommendations were rejected by the voters, the convention adjourned on September 10.

STILL MISSING

Welfare Employees Must Take Civil Service Exams

In order that the city may continue to receive its share of relief funds from the state it is necessary that all of the employees in the Department of Public Welfare of the city shall be under civil service. There are 26 positions which must be transferred to the civil service list.

At a meeting of the Municipal Civil Service Commission held Tuesday evening it was decided to hold civil service examinations for the various positions which must be under civil service.

The board will shortly advertise the list of positions that are to be filled together with the qualifications required for each position. These positions are all filled at the present time and it is understood that those holding the positions plan to take the civil service examination that is to be prepared.

The requirement of holding a civil service rating before the state will reimburse the city from state funds goes into effect July 1. All those who are now holding the positions have been approved by the state department.

Told to Have Written Contract

committee was not enough, the board said. Then, in the St. Joseph stockyards case, the board decided that an employer must put into an agreement, written or oral, any points agreed to in negotiations.

"Coming to the question of a signed, written agreement as distinguished from an oral agreement," the board said today, "we cannot find any justification for drawing a line between the two and holding that an unwillingness to enter into a written agreement is lawful, but that embodying understandings in oral agreements is an employer's obligation."

"Employees realize that ordinary business dealings of any magnitude and complexity are conducted through written agreements. They rightly fear that an oral agreement paves the way for prolonged haggling over what actually was agreed to."

The board explained it was not saying that oral agreements, if acceptable both to employers and employees, were invalid, but added:

"But employees, in insisting on a written agreement, are merely asking what any prudent business man would expect as a matter of course from those with whom he deals."

Uptown Business Men's Meeting

A brief but important meeting of the Kingston Business Men's Association will be held Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock at the Governor Clinton Hotel. President Jim Rowe promised a "short but snappy" meeting for the members and asks that a good representation be present as there are a couple of important matters to be taken up.

Among the matters to be discussed are final plans which the association is making for participation in the Apple Blossom Festival on May 6, 7 and 8. There will also be a report on Spring Display Opening.

Asks State Control

Washington, April 6 (AP)—Complete state control of the huge Pennsylvania anthracite industry was recommended today by a state commission that has been working on the hard coal problem for more than a year. The commission, headed by W. Jett Lauck, economist for the United Mine Workers, sent the report to Governor George H. Earle.

Blum Receives Confidence Vote

deputies said, to make certain a new government could step in quickly and avoid a long crisis.

With new strikes by about 8,500 metal workers over night, the total was swelled to about 10,000 men who ask more pay and collective bargaining contracts.

The plants are in the Paris region, and 20,000 of the workers have been out for several weeks.

Blum opened his fight in the Chamber of Deputies yesterday, presenting a bill which would give him full powers to adjust the nation's finances and economies by decree for three months.

The life of his people's front coalition of Socialists and Radical Socialists, with Communist support in Parliament, was at stake.

It seemed likely he could push the decree measure through the lower house with a slim majority. There was almost united hostility in the more conservative Senate, however, and a negative vote from that body would crash his cabinet.

Blum wants the decree powers to supervise foreign exchange dealings and prices, to levy what would be new taxes on capital and to proclaim a two-year moratorium on public debt payments—all so that France can go full speed ahead with her armament program and meet a probable $450,000,000 budget deficit due largely to armament costs.

St. John's Choir To Present Cantata

Music lovers in general, and those in particular who have been attending the series of special musical services which have been presented in St. John's Church during the winter, will be interested in the announcement that the last musical service of the season will be presented on Sunday afternoon, April 10, at 4 o'clock. St. John's choir is considered one of the finest in the Hudson river valley, and for this service it is presenting one of the most ambitious programs it has ever given. The feature of the service will be the beautiful cantata of the crucifixion, "The Darkest Hour," by Harold Moore. This cantata is one of the most dramatic works of recent years, and is considered so fine that many of the prominent New York city churches have featured it in their Holy Week services.

In addition to the regular choir of men and boys, there will be several assisting artists who will participate. The soprano soloist will be Adah Mase Curran, of Newburgh, who is well known in this section as a singer of great attainments. Donald Follows, of Saugerties, will be the baritone, August Franz will sing the tenor role, and Carl Pierson will be the bass. Assisting the choir as chorus men will be Dr. Richard Keaton, of Saugerties, William Bushnell, and the Rev. Maurice W. Venn.

The cantata consists of the following sections: Prologue, Gethsemane, the Trials Before Calaphas and Pilate, Calvary and Epilogue. The trial scenes are especially dramatic.

The general public is invited to be the guests of the congregation of St. John's for this service. It is hoped that many will be present to hear this beautiful ushering in of Holy Week. The service will begin promptly at 4 o'clock, and it is suggested that those who wish to attend be in their places at least five minutes before the beginning in order to be assured of good seats.

An offering for the support of the choir will be taken.

Local Man on Tufts Staff.

Daniel Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Miller of 243 Broadway, has recently received notice of his appointment to the teaching staff of Tufts Medical School in Boston as Student Fellow in Anatomy. Mr. Miller is a graduate of Kingston High School, Class of 1931, and also a graduate of Tufts College where he obtained the degree of Bachelor of Science in Chemistry in 1935. He is now finishing his third year at Medical School where he has been active in many organizations, besides having been honored with such an appointment because of his scholarships. Mr. Miller is president of the Tufts Medical History Club and also president of the Tufts Chapter of the National Medical Fraternity, Phi Delta Epsilon. He will begin his work in the Department of anatomy in September, 1938.

Mrs. F. S. Carr to be Bridesmaid

The marriage of Miss Lucille Niemeyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Niemeyer, to William H. Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph L. Hart, of 74 South Munn avenue, East Orange, is to take place at five o'clock, Wednesday evening, April 20, at the home of the bride's parents, 817 Fifth avenue, New York city. Only immediate members of the families will be present. The ceremony will be performed by Father John Fitzpatrick, of St. Brendan's Church, New York city. Miss Niemeyer's attendants will be Mrs. Edwin Palmer Scraggins, of 62 Halstead street, East Orange, and Mrs. Melvin James Baldwin, of Chattanooga, Tenn. Sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Frederic Scott Carr, of this city, Ralph L. Hart will serve his son as best man, and Thomas C. Niehaus, of 224 Walnut street, East Orange, will be the bridegroom's attendant. A reception to be held in the Jade Room of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, New York city, will follow the wedding.

Mrs. Hoffman Honored

Mrs. Charles H. Hoffman, of 197 Bruyn avenue, was guest of honor on Tuesday at a surprise luncheon given in honor of her 73rd birthday by the Woman's Auxiliary of St. John's Episcopal Church in the parish hall. The table was attractive with its spring like yellow favors and flowers. Covers were laid for 14.

Boys' Choir Camp to Open

The summer camp at DeWitt Lake of the choir boys of St. George's Church, Newburgh, will be opened on July 1. O. Roy Green, director of the choir, and W. L. Burnett, owner of DeWitt Lake, have arranged for a concert by the choir at the lake on July 20. In former years the concert has been held in the afternoon, but this year it will be given at 8 o'clock in the evening. Invitations will be sent to the churches in Kingston, Newburgh and surrounding villages. The beach will be free to the guests during the evening. The choir of 25 boys will sing at several different churches during the coming months. It has visited Kingston twice during the winter, singing at church services, and has also sung several times during the winter at West Point.

Exchange Plans Rummage Sale

With the spring house-cleaning frenzy soon to start, the Women's Exchange is looking forward to the month of May for its rummage sale. Housewives finding articles that would be suitable for the sale are asked to lay them aside until May, when the date and the place of the sale will have been announced.

Y. M. Auxiliary to Meet

The annual meeting of the Y. M. C. A. Women's Auxiliary will be held at the "Y" on Friday at 3 o'clock. Reports of the year's work will be given and election of officers will take place. Annual dues are payable at this meeting. The program will be in charge of a committee from the Clinton Avenue M. E. Church. A full attendance of the members of the auxiliary is requested.

Garden Club Opens Season

The Uster Garden Club opened its activities for the year Tuesday afternoon with a business meeting held at the home of Mrs. G. Wallace Colwise. Following the meeting the hostess served tea. Mrs. Frederick W. Varren and Mrs. Charles Tappan, pointing. The next meeting of the club will be on April 19 with Mrs. George Burgin the hostess.

To Have Food Sale

A food sale will be held at the home of Miss Grace Reeves, 3 North Front street, on Saturday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock. The proceeds will be used toward the Lenten box offering of Miss Reeves' class at St. John's Sunday School. Orders may be telephoned to Miss Reeves at 1453.

HAVE DAINTY, COLORFUL CURTAINS; YOU CAN EASILY MAKE THEM

SMART TIE-BACKS GIVE CURTAINS STYLE

By Freda McVittie
What gives these lovely curtains their dainty look?

The long tie-backs, daintily trimmed with rosettes. See how gracefully they're looped over the rod—one end down the front of the curtain, the other down the back.

Easy to make them. For the long ties, use ribbon or material in a contrasting color. Blue tie-backs are pretty with peach or gandy curtains. Just as charming are rosette green tie-backs, curtains of cream voile.

To make the rosette, cover a circle of canvas with the tie-back material. Attach frills, sew rosette to end of tie-back.

Or has your eye been caught by that tricky, fan-shaped tie-back shown on the right in our picture? It's stunning, too, is a color that matches either curtains or a cornice at the top of the curtain.

Cut a fan-shaped piece of canvas or buckram. Cover with fabric, attach strap. Sew on ruffles. You're gathered to a perky fullness. At the point of the "fan" attach a covered button mold. Sew a ring to the back of the mold, another to the end of the strap.

What about the curtains and their ruffled ruffles? Follow this pointer for attaching ruffles and they're simple as A B C. Finish curtains with a plain 1-inch hem on the inside and bottom edges. Now split the hem, turn in both edges ¼ inch. Insert raw edge of ruffle, stitch close to edge of hem.

Complete directions for all kinds of curtains and draperies are given in our 40-page booklet, MAKE YOUR OWN CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES. Valances, cornices, how to estimate, sew, trim, hang.

Send 15 cents for our booklet. MAKE YOUR OWN CURTAINS AND DRAPERIES, to Kingston Daily Freeman Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street New York, N. Y. Write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME of booklet.

Several Problems Studied by Board; Teacher Contracts

Highland, April 6.—A number of matters concerning the new senior-high school now under construction were taken up at the monthly meeting of the Board of Education, of Highland Central School, District No. 3, held Friday evening in the main school building. The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Jennie H. Rose, president, and Andrew Wright, William H. Maynard and C. Imbrie Richards, trustees, and Thomas R. Hopper, clerk were present. Also attending the meeting were A. Herbert Campbell, principal, and Harold A. Lent, associate counsel.

A letter from Edward C. Smith, architect, containing an enclosure of a list of apparatus for the new gymnasium was read and referred to Willard Burke, athletic supervisor.

Bonds Ready April 4

Mr. Lent stated that the bonds could be ready for the signature of the president and clerk on or about April 4 and the proceeds of the sale would be on hand on or about April 9. He also read a letter from Charles L. DuBois, president of the First National Bank of Highland, that the bank had made the necessary deposit of obligations of the United States government with the Chase National Bank of New York as required by PWA authorities as security for deposits of building funds to the maximum of $225,000. He also mentioned that at the forthcoming meeting of April 11 he would present to the board for action various change orders and accumulated bills.

Special Pay Clause

Mr. Lent suggested that Mr. McGrath, who took over his duties March 29, as clerk of the works, be paid his salary bi-monthly and that Architect Smith tender bi-monthly statements. These suggestions were unanimously approved by the board.

Insurance Discussed

William Rusher, an insurance special agent, who was accompanied by Michael Nardone, local attorney, spoke on insurance of the new building during construction. He gave a rate of 2 1/2 cents per 100 for fire-insurance and construction and 45 cents per 100 for non-fire-resistant material. He said that a combination rate for the two could be obtained from the underwriters. Mr. Lent moved that this matter be referred to a committee, and upon Mr. Maynard's second, the motion was unanimously carried. Mrs. Rose then appointed Trustees Lent and Richards.

Mr. Hopper notified the board that all contracts mailed to teachers had been returned signed with one exception. A list of the teachers to whom contracts were sent and salaries called for follows: Mr. Campbell, $4,400; Mr. Gaffney, $2,200; Mr. Burke, $2,700; John Crowley, $1,900; Bertha Jacobs, $2,000; Martha Benesh, $2,000; Louise Taylor, $1,475; Gertrude Cook, $1,625; Catrynia Columbe, $2,000; Elizabeth Salese, $1,700; June Reynolds, $1,625; Helen Sykes, $2,000; Arthur Poelma, $1,500; Ruth Goldsmith, $1,775; Gladys Meira, $1,800; Marie Van Wormer, $1,600; Marian Barry, $1,600; Beatrice Grimm, $1,600; Rose Symes, $1,500; Mary Cunningham, $1,075; Mary Gaffney, $1,600; Ruth Courter, $1,300; Ruth Decker, $1,800; Edna Curry, $1,600; Harriet Boyce, $1,600; Rosella Hobby, $1,225; Dorothy Churchill, $1,725; Anne Sooma, $1,075; Susan Ploss, $1,800; Marguerite Lyons, $1,600; Luella Ose, $1,150; Mabel Yeager, $1,800; Helen Connor, $1,450; Mabel Conns, $1,725; Mary Schmidt, $1,600; Virginia Brodzia, $1,275; and Roger Schawartz $5 per day.

At a special meeting held last Friday all members of the board were present and various phases of the heating and electrical work to be incorporated in the new building were taken up with Architect Smith and Messrs. Fentz-Jaff and Gelb, consulting engineers, who advised the board regarding changes in the original plans. Subjects discussed were: drinking and flushing water; blowers and grates; deep firing; thermostat temperature control of each room. The capacity of the coal bin was estimated at 160 tons and the estimated requirement to heat the building for one year, 275 tons.

The board declared in favor of coal as fuel, instead of oil; Carbondale grates, Wing blowers, Pacific boilers and worm conveyors from bin to fire room. These were incorporated in a motion by Trustee Schantz, seconded by Mr. Maynard, and unanimously voted. It was moved by Mr. Lent, seconded by Mr. Richards, and unanimously carried that the architect be authorized to prepare the three following change orders and the clerk certify same: Covering the elimination of windows and doors, etc., in the room to be converted into a coal bin; covering a change from pea to rice and a higher base under boilers; and covering a sand trap on water line, drinking water fountain connecting with well in present building and outlet in cafeteria.

Mr. Gelb described the electrical installation, mentioning sound equipment, time clocks and movie wiring.

The president, Mrs. Rose, read a letter received from Col. Gil-mour, regional director of PWA, stating that not over $130,000 could be held in the First National Bank of Highland. It was moved by Mr. Schantz and seconded by Mr. Maynard that the board select the First National Bank of Milton as a depository for any amount in excess of that sum. Carried.

Kolts Celebrating First Anniversary

Harvey S. Kolts, president and manager of the Kolts Electric Supply Company of 526 Broadway, is this month celebrating the completion of his first year of private business enterprise in Kingston.

For a period of 20 years, Mr. Kolts has been connected with the electrical supply business, and it was on April 1, 1937, that he opened his own business under the name of the Kolts Electric Supply Company.

For the past year the Kolts company has served many of the local electricians with wiring supplies and electrical equipment, and many homes in this vicinity have been redecorated with modern and improved lighting fixtures which are handled by the Kolts Company.

Since its beginning a year ago, the local firm has grown rapidly and has even received large fixture orders from firms in New York city.

In commenting on his first year, Mr. Kolts stated that business had been fairly good considering the fact that he had started an entirely new business, and he further remarked that his success was due to his host of friends who became customers, and also because of the high quality merchandise which he has stocked.

Rosendale Town Board Meeting

Rosendale, April 5.—At the regular annual meeting of the village board, the following officers were present: Mayor Golden Lewis, Trustees William Meier and Harry Baxter. WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Willset Calmed—And You'll Sleep Out of Bed in the Morning!

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks pink.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Don't stubbornly refuse anything else.

The Russian government has gone into the "confession" business as seriously as some of our American magazines.

Al (Hostile) Hostak Loses One Of His 68 Fights, Eyes Middleweight Crown

By FRANK GORRIE

Seattle (AP)—If the Steeles, Hostak and Corbett don't hurry and end their argument over who would look best wearing the middleweight boxing crown, a young upstart by the name of Al (Hostile) Hostak is apt to butt in and grab the championship belt.

He's Koyed His Last 11 Foes

He has had 18 middleweight scraps and knocked out his last 11 opponents. These included former champion Babe Risko, Tony Fisher, and Allen Matthews.

Other Side of Tracks He hails from the other side of the railroad tracks in Seattle, a suburb of Georgetown. One day after school a few years ago he walked into the gym of Eddie Marino's boxing emporium and said:

"I want to be a fighter."

Since then he has been under the tutelage of Marino, who won the lightweight title of Canada and Billy Lauder of Calgary in 1929 and fought Abe Attell for the featherweight crown at Sandpoint, Idaho—and lost.

Hostak has had 68 fights. He is lost—one. That was to Jimmy Best of Tacoma, Wash., when he was a welterweight. Later he got even with Jimmy.

Al has never been knocked out in his feet.

At least I've knocked more of 'em out with my left," he says.

Barmann and Fassbender Win Fly Casting Honors

Patrolman Henry P. Barmann and Albert Fassbender, pugle of the Common Council, brought their honors to the city hall when Barmann won first place in fly casting for accuracy and Fassbender won the plug casting first place at the Sportsmen's Show, sponsored by the Ulster County Fish and Game Protective Association, at the municipal auditorium, Tuesday evening.

It was estimated that 600 anglers and their friends gathered to watch W. R. "Fly Rod Bill" Cook of Stevens Point, Wis., demonstrate the art of fly casting. Mr. Cook also showed two reels of moving pictures on taking bass and salmon with a 3-foot fly rod.

Contest Winners In the boys' class for fly casting first honors were won by C. A. "Bud" Fromer, Jr., who also won first place in the plug casting contest for boys.

In the fly casting contest for accuracy there was great interest displayed as some of the most expert trout fishermen in Ulster county participated. First honors went to Officer Barmann. The target was a bicycle tire and the idea was to cast the fly inside the tire rim from various distances unknown to the caster. The longest distance was approximately 50 feet.

In the plug casting for men Albert Fassbender won first place, William Henninger second. The prizes awarded the winners were donated by some of the local sporting goods dealers. There were exhibits of sporting goods shown by L. S. Winne and Company, the Elston Sports Shop and Sears, Roebuck Co.

Selkirk Slams One

George Selkirk—"Twinkletoes" is likely to supply added punch to the already powerful attack of Yankee Murderers' Row. He has taken on six or eight pounds and his arm, which he hurt last season at a time when he was knocking the cover off the ball, is completely well.

Ascension Choir to Sing At Holy Trinity Church

The choir of the Church of the Ascension, West Park, will sing at Holy Trinity Church, Highland, at the morning service on Easter Day. For several weeks they have been rehearsing the Easter music under the direction of Mrs. W. Herman Jordan, who now has full charge of the music at both of these well known Episcopal Churches.

The members of the Ascension Church Choir are: Leo E. Volt, W. Herman Jordan, Mr. E. Edward J. Cochran, Miss Barbara O. Herz, Miss Helen Webster, Miss Penelope Taltiera and Milton Taltiera.

Oldest Member of Ascension Church Has 90th Birthday

Mrs. Emery Freer has the distinction of being the oldest member of the Parish and of the Ascension in West Park. Mrs. Freer came to Lopus to live 88 years ago—1850—and began in the Sunday school around the age of nine. She has, therefore, been a member for 81 years, and though she has been confined to her bed for several years, past her interest in the affairs of the parish is very real. Her 90th birthday took place on Saturday, April 2, when her neighbors and friends filled her room with all manner of flowers. She makes her home with her two daughters, Miss Grace Freer and Miss Viva Freer.

Ascension Women's Guild To Give Covered Dish Supper

The Women's Guild of the Church of the Ascension in West Park will hold a covered dish supper in the Ascension Parish House on Thursday evening, April 7, at 6 p. m.

The Guild held its last Lenten meeting at the home of Mrs. Alfred DuMont in West Park. The new officers for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Arthur Loren LeFevre, president; Mrs. Arthur McKay LeFevre, vice president; Mrs. Alice DuMont, treasurer; and Mrs. Edward J. Cochran, secretary.

Junior College Presents New Course in Matrimony

Sacramento—Sacramento junior college, impressed by a survey revealing 85 per cent of its girl students are married within five years after graduation, has established a course in homemaking.

A department of home economics will conduct the courses of instruction calculated to make the course of true love run more smoothly.

One hundred and thirty girls have registered thus far, 35 of whom selected homemaking as a major. No boys have designated to enroll, however.

Training in child development will be emphasized, with the cooperation of two local day nurseries, where students will observe child behavior and learn to cope with the problems of juvenile education and care.

Students also will make daily supervised shopping tours from which they will be expected to learn economical food buying.

Present plans call for adult classes by fall.

Woman Gold Digger in Her Spare Time

Manhattan, Nev.—Mrs. George Eckman, camping with a construction crew in placer mining operations, turned out to be a gold digger in her spare time.

Using only a pancake turner and a toy garden rake, Mrs. Eckman recovered two yards of "pay dirt" while cleaning out the bottom of her backyard well. She netted $94.65 in gold.

WOMEN NOT FUNNY, HUMORIST DECLARES

Nearly All Comic Stuff Is of Male Origin, He Says.

San Francisco.—Lasslo Schwartz, humorist and author, said on his arrival here from Honolulu that "90 per cent of all humor is male humor."

"Women very seldom create humor," he said. "They content themselves with getting it from the men."

Schwartz is on the last lap of his fourth trip around the world in search of material for a "humor" book.

His last trip covered four years and took him to India, Burma, the Malay states, the Dutch East Indies, Manila, Indo-China, Madagascar, Africa, the Fiji Islands and Hawaii.

"Tempo is one of the deciding factors in determining the quality and quantity of humor," Schwartz said.

"The English think slowly, create their humor slowly and enjoy it slowly. French humor, on the other hand, is more a form of wit combined with finesse."

Americans Are Swift. "Americans," Schwartz continued, "have the swiftest tempo and therefore, because of the great demand for humor in this country, it tends to become commercialized and manufactured rather than deep-rooted."

The jovial little man explained that the only dependable critic of humor is "Father Time."

"A good humorist must also be a good humanist," Schwartz said. "Suffering and humor go hand in hand, as exemplified by the Irish, Chinese, Jews, Negroes and Bohemian gypsies."

Schwartz said he did not find much humor in the Dutch East Indies, Java, Sumatra or the Malay states. Burma and Bali are "full of humor," he said.

"India is fabulous for her lack of humor," he continued. "Her religion, which goes into fanaticism, unbalances the people and causes them to lose their sense of proportion. Without this humor is impossible."

He said the child marriages in India throw heavy burdens of responsibility on the children at an early age and make them too serious minded.

"Wherever you find childhood laughter and songs you will find humor," he said.

Hawaiians Not Funny. "In Hawaii there is no native humor. It is derived from rejuvenated, regenerated and remodeled hymns borrowed from missionaries."

In remote Fiji, Schwartz said, he met a missionary and a native who addressed each other as follows: "The missionary—'My good man, can you direct me to the post office?'"

"The native—'Who are you?' 'A missionary.' 'What do you do?' 'I guide people to Heaven,' the missionary replied."

"You faker!" charged the native. "You try to tell people how to get to Heaven when you do not know the way to post office!"

China has humor, too, he said. While visiting China he addressed a coolie and asked him whether his race had any mother-in-law jokes.

"Plenty," replied the coolie. "Well," said Mr. Schwartz, expectantly.

"Ask other man," said the coolie. "Don't you have any in your own family?" Schwartz asked.

"No," explained the Chinese. "Our family peaceful people."

Mexico's Mining Country

In early colonial times the mining country of the west coast of Mexico stretched from the Gila river in Arizona, across the deserts of Sonora, down the Sierra Madre range to Jalisco. Arispe, the old capital of the royal provinces of Sonora and Sinaloa in the time of Philip III of Spain, was the northern center of the industry, and the region produced one-fifth of the riches that found their way to Spain.

Lamp Kept Burning

In an old palace in Travancore (India) is an oil lamp which, according to tradition, has been burning for the past 1,200 years. It commemorates a ruler of the state who is said to have ascended to heaven while resting on a stone couch. The couch is preserved as an object of veneration.

A Party and an Inspection

Freeman Photo

Officers of the local batteries of the 156th Field Artillery, N. Y., N. G. attended the annual meeting of the 156th Officers' Association at Newburgh Saturday evening. Among items considered by the officers was the final preparation for the annual federal inspection of the regiment, the local batteries of which will be scanned and questioned on Thursday night. This occasion occurs once each year, to look over equipment and personnel, and question the latter concerning their training year. Among those who attended the meeting from Kingston were the above, front row, left to right, First Lieut. Harold W. Clayton, executive officer of Battery A; Capt. E. A. Steuding, commanding Battery A; back row, left to right, Second Lieut. Andrew Mitchell, reconnaissance officer, 1st Ba. Hqs.; Second Lieut. "TAX CONSCIOUS" COLLEGE STUDENTS

Robert Baumann, (left) of Floral Park, N. Y., president of the Student Union at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, and Lawrence Warwick of Payne, Pa., a student leader, with 250,000 pennies which undergraduates gathered, causing an acute shortage around the campus. They said it was part of a campaign to make the public conscious of "hidden taxes" by paying for 25 per cent of all their purchases with coppers.
